

LATINO MUSEUM STUDIES PROGRAM

July 9 - August 17, 2018

Smithsonian Latino Center

Gain first hand experience in the museum field through a series of lectures, workshops and behind-the-scenes tours.

Explore and discuss the representation and interpretation of the US Latino experience. We encourage graduate students enrolled in the following fields to apply:

- Museum Studies
- Anthropology
- Women's Studies
- Library & Archival Science
- Art History
- Visual Arts
- Curatorial Practice
- Latino Studies
- Digital Humanities
- Cultural Studies
- Public History
- Design Studies

Participation is free and includes lodging, round-trip travel to Washington, D.C. and a modest stipend. For more information on the program visit website below.
