Sandra Cisneros

Writing

“If you write something from the corazón (the heart), . . . you do it to serve the community . . . [If] you do it with all your heart and absolute humility, then something good will come of it.”